

The Edmunds and Arthur men in the New York convention joined forces and elected delegates-at-large to the Chicago convention. Two will stand for Edmunds and two for Arthur. This is a sore disappointment to the Blaine faction.

The Chicago Tribune has finally got a genuine special cable dispatch from London on Mr. Collier's interview with Mr. Arthur. The Tribune says he "appropriately" denounced the New York Tribune's report, but it does not say whether or not Mr. Collier's interview with Mr. Arthur was a success or a failure.

If the speed of ocean steamers keeps on increasing there will be no need of inventing a balloon with which to shorten the distance between America and Europe. The steamer Oregon, of the Gunline, has just made the fastest trip on record. The time was six days and ten hours. Her fastest run was made April 19-472 miles, during fair weather. It eclipses the best run ever made in twenty-four hours, that of the Alaska, by thirty-two miles. The entire distance run was 2,851 miles, or seventy-six miles farther than the Alaska when she made her best record of six days, twenty-one hours and forty minutes. The average speed per day of the Oregon was 461 miles, or nearly twenty miles an hour. This is as good time as the fastest express makes on the railway between Chicago and San Francisco.

The Gazette learns through the Chicago Journal, that the Hon. Isaac N. Arnold, of that city, is in a very precarious condition of health, and that his physicians regard his recovery exceedingly doubtful. Mr. Arnold is one of Chicago's conspicuous citizens. He was a representative in congress during Mr. Lincoln's presidency, and, after his retirement, wrote and published a history of the exciting events of that time. He has long been a leader of the Chicago bar, and has for some years been president of the Chicago historical society. As one of the most cultured and public-spirited citizens, who has been long and honorably identified with our local history, the death of Mr. Arnold would be a public bereavement. For the past two or three years Mr. Arnold has been working on a life of Abraham Lincoln, which he regarded as a great improvement on his first book, "Lincoln and Slavery." But we judge from the tone of the Journal's notice, that Mr. Arnold will not live to finish the work.

A correspondent writes to the Chicago Journal, asking for information regarding tickets of admission to the republican national convention. The editor of the Journal answers as follows:

Mr. W. K. Sullivan, the secretary of the Chicago committee of arrangement for the national republican convention, informs us that each delegate to the convention will have his pro rata share of admission tickets, and that "outsiders" should apply for tickets to the delegates from their respective districts. As the pro rata share of each delegate will be only about seven tickets, the chances for "outsiders" to become "insiders" are very slim indeed, unless they have "influence" with the district delegates, who on this occasion is one of "the powers that be."

Persons who are extremely desirous of gaining admission to the convention will readily see from this statement how exceedingly slim their chances will be of getting in the convention hall. According to Mr. Sullivan's view of the situation, Wisconsin will have only 154 tickets, not including special press tickets. There are ten thousand people in Wisconsin who want to go in the convention on the 154 tickets.

While there is very strong belief among republicans that they will elect the next president, there will be a very close contest. In the electoral college there will be 401 votes; of course the candidate that wins must receive 201. The states that may be set down as certain for the republicans, are the following:

Illinois.....	22
Pennsylvania.....	22
Ohio.....	21
Wisconsin.....	11
Michigan.....	11
Minnesota.....	11
Indiana.....	11
Ohio.....	11
California.....	11
Idaho.....	11
Montana.....	11
Wyoming.....	11
Utah.....	11
Nebraska.....	11
Kansas.....	11
Colorado.....	11
Arizona.....	11
New Mexico.....	11
Texas.....	11
Louisiana.....	11
Mississippi.....	11
Alabama.....	11
Georgia.....	11
Florida.....	11
South Carolina.....	11
North Carolina.....	11
Virginia.....	11
West Virginia.....	11
Maryland.....	11
Delaware.....	11
District of Columbia.....	11
Total.....	155

We still lack 30 votes of having a sufficient number to elect a republican president. If the republicans should carry New York they will have the necessary 201; but if they lost that state and gained Indiana, Connecticut, Oregon, and California, they would still lack four votes of having a majority. It will be seen from this that New York will be the great battle ground for 1884. If the republicans lose the state, their candidate is defeated, as they can not make gains anywhere else that will save them. For this very vital reason, a strong candidate in New York, is all-important to the republican party.

The San Francisco Press undertakes to make its readers believe that there is a growing opposition to Governor Russ's renomination next fall. Commenting on the alleged feeling against the governor at La Crosse, the Press says:

In other parts of the state, also, there is a growing demand for a gubernatorial candidate whose abilities will command the respect of discriminating voters. Although it is hardly to be supposed that the well-laid plans of the governor for renomination can be defeated, the evidence of opposition to him are cropping out so rapidly that they will at least cause the hard farmers some anxiety. It is very safe to say that this growing demand for a gubernatorial change is all an idle fancy with the editor of the San Francisco Press. Some ambitious politicians may desire to form a little ring for the purpose of attempting to defeat Governor Russ, but the masses of the people and the leading republicans who are thoughtful enough to attend to none but their own business, and no fault whatever with the governor and will favor his renomination. Governor Russ has filled the executive office well. He has made no mistakes, he has not shown himself to be weak in the knees or wanting strength of mind. He has been wise and judicious in administering the affairs of the state, and can any one give any reason why there should be a change? If there is opposition to him, on the ground that a term of three years is long enough, that is a different thing, but if it arises on the score of ability and fitness, there is nothing to it, and therefore let the governor be renominated.

Five Republican State Conventions Going at One Time.

The New Yorkers Get Through With Their Business and Adjourn.

In Ohio They Have to Give Another Day to Their Country's Welfare.

Connecticut and Dakota-Virginia Conventions Select an Arthur Delegation-Proceedings at All the Gatherings.

URICA, April 24.—There was much planning and scheming among the delegates to the Republican convention during the morning, the object of the same being the capture by either the Blaine or Arthur men of the Edmunds contingent which was compact and abundantly large enough to control the action of the convention. It transpired before noon that the Arthur and Edmunds men had made some sort of agreement, said to be on a basis of sending Edmunds men to Chicago, and Arthur men to St. Louis, the object being that these delegates would support their candidate, if Edmunds had no show, rather than Blaine.

The convention met at 12:30, with a full representation from all the counties in the state, and an immense audience in the galleries. The only contest was from Montgomery county, Theodore Roosevelt nominated N. C. Boynton (Edmunds-Arthur), and Warner Miller named Edward L. Pitts for temporary chairman. The result of the roll-call was: Boynton, 451; Pitts, 210; which was the signal for tremendous cheering, the vote being a black eye for the Blaine men.

Boynton took the chair and the usual committees were appointed, and the convention took recess till 3:30 p. m. It was 4 o'clock before business was recommenced.

The committee on permanent organization reported as follows: President, Hon. N. C. Boynton, Essex, and several vice presidents and secretaries. George Bliss, from the credentials committee, reported that there was but one contest, and that in Montgomery county. The delegates seated were two from each delegation.

On motion, the chair appointed Hon. Titus Sheard, Solon B. Smith, W. W. Stevens and D. A. Lauer, tellers. The roll of the 430 delegates was then called on choice of delegates-at-large to Chicago and each named his choice. The voting and the count occupied nearly two hours. The results were announced as follows, amid the wildest enthusiasm: Theodore Roosevelt, 472; Andrew C. White, 407; J. T. Gilbert, 347; E. T. Packard, 257; William Miller, 248; A. B. Cornell, 235; Cole, 2; Vrooman, 1; J. H. Hornak, 1.

The committee on platform then reported. The resolutions express confidence in the success of the republican party in the coming presidential election; compliment the administration of President Arthur as prudent and sagacious, commending itself to the esteem of the country; approve Republican management of the affairs of the country; the policy of protection; approve the party's past action and present purpose to bring the civil service to the highest state of efficiency; its advocacy of equal civil rights and free ballot; its approval of national legislation to assist in the education of the illiterate, its support of the movement to put the navy upon a respectable footing, its adherence to sound financial principles and advocacy of suspension of coinage of the silver dollar and adjustment of the currency to a gold standard, and its protest against a policy of unrest in matters affecting the business interests of the country and determination to do nothing that shall create a feeling of uneasiness among the people.

George Bliss moved that Edward B. Thomas be the alternate for Mr. White, Henry F. Tarbox for Mr. Roosevelt, Charles O. Tappan for Mr. Gilbert, and Pascal P. Frost for Mr. Packard. The motion was seconded by Mr. Charles F. Elitch, and on being put was unanimously carried. Messrs. Roosevelt and Gilbert were called before the convention, and responded in brief speeches. George Bliss said that for the purpose of making the work of the convention more efficient, he moved that the delegates proceed to name candidates for judges of the court of appeals, and disqualify business that might otherwise come before a convention to be held in the fall. The motion was carried. Judges Elitch and Tappan were nominated and unanimously selected.

Some action was then taken to facilitate the settlement of differences in the party in cases of contest, and also providing a plan for primaries.

On motion of Mr. Bliss, as amended by Mr. Johnson (colored), the state committee were empowered to nominate two electors-at-large, one of whom is to be a colored man. Mr. Nicol offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the Republicans of New York in state convention represented, respectfully request the next national Republican convention to provide that in the case of national conventions representatives shall be proportionate to the number of Republican voters of the state and congressional districts respectively.

On motion of Mr. Bliss the state committee was empowered to fill all vacancies and replace ineligible electors. A vote of thanks was extended to the chairman and the convention adjourned.

the state than at any time since the nomination of Garfield. The old timers who have been in request for a year or two, are out in force, working in the front rank as of yore. The work of the day was all of a substantial nature, the districts selecting their vice presidents.

The session of the day was the action of the Cuyahoga delegation in throwing overboard ex-congressman Parsons and declaring its preference for Mark Hanna, the principal stockholder of the Cleveland Herald, for delegate-at-large. Hanna was defeated last week in the district convention for congressional delegate. The Cleveland delegation also voted down the anti-Sherman resolution.

Resolved, That we, the delegates from Cuyahoga county, request our representatives in the coming national Republican convention not to vote for the nomination of any United States senator for the office of president of the United States whose election would imperil republican supremacy in that body.

Judge Foster was strongly urged for permanent chairman, of the convention, but he is not likely to attend, and the honor will be conferred on Congressman McKinley, of Canton. The candidates for secretary of state are as follows: Senator Walcott, Representative Oscar Shepherd, Commissioner of Statistics Henry Lusk and Gen. J. S. Robinson. For the supreme court judgeship the only candidates are Judge Robinson, the present incumbent, and Judge Brown. Judge Robinson is the favorite of the delegates. C. Flickinger will be nominated for member of the board of public works, and Leo Veltz is also a candidate. The candidates for delegates-at-large are Judge West, who was defeated for the post of chief clerk, and Judge Foster, who was defeated by Governor Hooley; R. H. Parsons, who was defeated for congress by Payne; ex-Governor Foster; W. G. Rose, who was defeated for Lieutenant Governor, last fall; Charles Governor, Mayor Townsend, and J. Warren Koller. The colored men have been promised a delegate-at-large, and W. S. Thomas, of Delaware, and ex-Representative Queen, of this city, are being canvassed for. Ex-State Treasurer Geo. Turley and Congressman McKinley are prominently mentioned for electors.

Virginia Conventions. RICHMOND, April 24.—The Convention convened here at noon. There were 730 delegates in attendance, representing every county in the state. About one-third of the delegates were colored men. On all sides it is conceded that this is one of the most intelligent Republican conventions ever held in this state. About 12 o'clock Senator Malone appeared upon the platform, and as chairman of the state executive committee, nominated John T. Hays for president. He was unanimously elected, with a number of vice presidents and secretaries. The Hon. Martin A. Foran, of Cleveland; George Blair, of New York; and J. M. Faquhar, of this city, then delivered addresses in support of the nomination of John T. Hays. He was unanimously elected, with a number of vice presidents and secretaries. The Hon. Martin A. Foran, of Cleveland; George Blair, of New York; and J. M. Faquhar, of this city, then delivered addresses in support of the nomination of John T. Hays. Faquhar, of this city, then delivered addresses in support of the nomination of John T. Hays. He was unanimously elected, with a number of vice presidents and secretaries.

When the cheering subsided he, in a few words, after acknowledging the life-long obligations which he would feel for the consideration and distinction bestowed upon him, said they had met to take grave and serious concern in public affairs, and to concert measures which would make life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness the main end of justice in Virginia. He urged harmony of proceedings, to give force to their actions, and then nominated Mayor Lamb, of Norfolk, as temporary chairman. Mayor Lamb's nomination was greeted with applause, and he at once stepped forward and eloquently and earnestly outlined the purposes and object of the convention.

Resolutions were adopted providing for committees on credentials and permanent organization, and referring resolutions to the committee on foreign affairs. LABORERS IN LINE.

Great Industrial Demonstration at Buffalo, New York.

Meeting to Denounce the Employment of Italians and to Comdemn a Newspaper-Editor's Thousand Men in Line.

BUFFALO, N. Y., April 24.—The greatest demonstration that has ever taken place in Buffalo, occurred here when the workmen turned out on mass in order to protest against the employment of Italians on the docks in place of longshoremen, and against the stretching of union labor from the office of the Buffalo Courier, in which four strikes of its printers have occurred in six weeks. As early as 6 o'clock the streets became filled with people. The time was fixed on the terms of that hour, and by 7:30 p. m. the immense body, numbering over 5,000 men, began to move. From the time it started until it reached Music hall, the streets were filled with demonstrators. The men were formed four abreast, and it took fully forty minutes for the line to pass a given point. The principal interest centered on the exercises at Music hall, where fully 5,000 people had gathered in order to witness the demonstration. Shortly before 9 o'clock the doors were thrown open and the immense body rushed down the aisles and filled every seat and aisle inside of three minutes. Many of them poured through the private boxes and on the stage, where they took the seats assigned to the officers of the evening. Thomas Galloway, president of Typographical Union No. 9, advanced to the front of the platform, and, after stating the objects of the meeting, nominated John T. Hays for president. He was unanimously elected, with a number of vice presidents and secretaries. The Hon. Martin A. Foran, of Cleveland; George Blair, of New York; and J. M. Faquhar, of this city, then delivered addresses in support of the nomination of John T. Hays. He was unanimously elected, with a number of vice presidents and secretaries.

The Minnesota senators have recommended Mr. C. C. Schiller, for controller of the treasury. Strict civil-service rules would call to the position Edward Graves, now assistant treasurer.

The Elgin Watch company, having been assessed 40 per cent. on an importation of enamel, brought suit against Collector Sprague, in overture to Judge Blodgett decided that the article should have paid a duty of 25 per cent. as watch material.

An official of the pension bureau relates the fact that a soldier died while his claim was pending, his wife expired while the papers were being changed in her behalf, and their two children were swept off by an epidemic before their application had gone the rounds.

The Illinois railroad and warehouse commission, in the matter of the third complaint of the Kankakee Coal company against the Illinois Central road, decides that a shipper with one car load is entitled to the same rate as if he had 100, and that competition is not a sufficient reason for allowing a lower rate of freight to a given point.

Too Liberal with His Cash.
New York, April 24.—The assignment of John H. Duane, lawyer, and the largest building operator in this city, has caused a deal of sympathy in banking and commercial circles for that gentleman. Mr. Duane's generosity to the Baptist church is well known, and his gifts to the church are said by his friends to exceed $200,000. It is confidently expected by his many friends that if the estate is wound, the assets will exceed the liabilities by such an amount as to leave Mr. Duane a comparatively rich man.

The Illinois railroad and warehouse commission, in the matter of the third complaint of the Kankakee Coal company against the Illinois Central road, decides that a shipper with one car load is entitled to the same rate as if he had 100, and that competition is not a sufficient reason for allowing a lower rate of freight to a given point.

Too Liberal with His Cash.
New York, April 24.—The assignment of John H. Duane, lawyer, and the largest building operator in this city, has caused a deal of sympathy in banking and commercial circles for that gentleman. Mr. Duane's generosity to the Baptist church is well known, and his gifts to the church are said by his friends to exceed $200,000. It is confidently expected by his many friends that if the estate is wound, the assets will exceed the liabilities by such an amount as to leave Mr. Duane a comparatively rich man.

Heartless Treatment of a Child.
Annapolis, Md., April 24.—Sophia Johnson and her son William, both colored, have been brought here from Crownsville, under commitment, on the charge of maltreating and driving from their home Mary Snow, a colored woman, niece of Sophia. The child died in the woods from exposure. The skeleton of the girl was found on Easter Monday. She had been missing since the latter part of January.

Ordered to Render an Account.
Boston, April 24.—In the matter of the bill in equity of the Globe National bank, to compel A. A. Wyman, assignee of the insolvent estate of the Shaw Bros., to pay a dividend to the creditors, out of the $500,000 already collected by him, Judge Colburn, of the supreme court, orders an account to be rendered before June 24, at which time the order for dividends will be issued.
